YOGA STUDIO ETIQUETTE

The spirit of Yoga embraces the qualities of compassion, awareness and respect. In this attitude of awareness we ask that you...

- If your schedule permits please try to arrive 5-10 minutes before the class begins, to allow yourself time to settle into your Yoga practice. Classes will start at the time scheduled. If you do arrive just as the class is beginning please enter and set up quietly.
- If you have to leave the class early, please inform the teacher that you may leave before final relaxation, Savasana. If leaving early please set/place your mat at the back of the class.
- Inform your teacher about any injuries or health conditions before class. This will help the teacher make suggestions to modify the poses to enhance your practice.
- All though we all like a few good laughs, the practice of Yoga is that of an "inward" or quiet practice (mindfulness). Out of respect for your fellow students and your practice we ask that conversation to be kept minimum before, during and after class if there is another class following immediately. Remember that this hour is for you to unwind and connect with self, breath and leave feeling amazing. To maximize your experience one needs to go inward and quiet the mind. Refraining from idle conversation will facilitate you getting most from your practice. We want to create a space of healing, quiet, relaxation as well as one of friendship.
- Please turn off your cell phones, or better yet leave them in your locker. If you are on-call or in an emergency situation, please let the teacher know before class.
- Please refrain from wearing perfumes or fragrances as they may disturb some students and some may have allergic reactions.
- Making choices, variety is a spice of life. We offer a variety of teachers and styles to practice with. This can be a very personal thing that it may take a while to find a right combination. Make your own choices honestly, privately and with integrity. Remember that talking with the teacher is helpful, talking about them is not.
- If you are experiencing any signs of cold, flu, coughing etc. We ask that you kindly refrain from attending a class until you feel better. We love you ...not your germs.
